RESIDENT OF MANCHESTER IS SENTENCED
TO 37 MONTHS FOR SELLING COCAINE AND CRACK

CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE -- Carlos Nunez, a 36-year-old former resident of 543 Lincoln Street, Manchester, New Hampshire was sentenced to 37 months in prison earlier today by Chief United States District Court Judge Steven McAuliffe.

Last February, Nunez pleaded guilty to selling cocaine and cocaine base “crack” in Manchester, New Hampshire on five separate occasions in June and July 2005. Immediately before Nunez was arrested for the offenses, he swallowed a package of crack. The package was recovered by the New Hampshire State Police after Nunez was treated at a hospital.

After Nunez was sentenced, United States Attorney Tom Colantuono said, “I am grateful that the New Hampshire State Police and law enforcement agencies all over New Hampshire have made such a strong commitment to investigate and prosecute all forms of illegal drug sales. Our neighborhoods and our children are safer because of their valiant and courageous efforts in this regard.”

This case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Bob Kinsella.
